MY FAMILY IS NOT ORDINARY

How "abnormal" becomes extraordinary!

I WANT TO BELIEVE

four talks exploring the challenge of faith

#1. If a person is an adult and not a Christian, he or she has a reason, and it's probably a good one!

#2. Adults don't make decisions by answering all objections, but when something personal shrinks them.

If belief is challenging to you, you don't need more answers as much as you need a personal encounter.
